Andalus Bulldogs started a drive that carried them 70 yards before the Tiger one. Bill Caton went in for the touchdown and Herkannus kicked the extra point. Later in the same period the Bulldogs began rolling again. Andalus did most of the ball toting. His gains of from four to 20 yards came with monotony and regularity and finally put the Bulldogs on the Tiger four. Andalus hit pay dirt from four yards out. The try for extra point failed and Andalus led 14-0 with only a few seconds to go in the half.

Rally Planned in Dothan

A motorcade of Elba grid fans will be formed for Thanksgiving Day at the high school starting at 9 o'clock in the morning to travel en masse to Dothan to stare a silent pep rally in the middle of the business session before game time. Sam Sawyer and Jake Bonneau announced Monday. Preceded by the band, the motorcade of fans will be escorted by the police through the downtown section of Dothan and will stop at a point to be selected for the rally.

According to plans the motorcade will leave here about 10 A. M. or a rally in Dothan as early as before noon. Members of the band will be furnished with a lunch before the game.

Cars going to Dothan in the motorcade will be furnished free of charge signs carrying slogans such as "Beat Dothan" and crepe paper streamers of the school colors.

Anybody who wishes to go to Dothan but doesn't have a ride is asked to contact Sam Sawyer or Jake Bonneau at the assembling point and transportation will be furnished, Mr. Sawyer said.

Almon Strain, A. C. L. agent, received a letter Thursday from the Agricultural and Industrial agent of his railroad, from Jacksonville, Fla. stating that he had a client, a shirt manufacturer, who is looking for a location for his factory which must be moved from its present location between now and January 1st. The letter stated that the factory would operate 150 machines and employ 175 to 200 hands, all white, with a payroll of $60,000 per year. The factory requires

10,000 square feet of floor space, and it is said the Page building would meet the requirements to make a profitable investment. Two hundred people taken off relief would save at least $1,600 per month. It also has been suggested that the city might agree to waive occupation and ad valorem taxes, etc. Mr. Strain handed the letter to Mayor Oscar English, who in turn gave it to J. V. Wright, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who sent a letter of inquiry to the Coast Line office at Jacksonville.

SHORT STORY

Second Chance

By Will Lozier

MR. WALTER BRADBURY looked disconsolately out of his office window at the parade below. Mr. Bradbury had nothing against parades. In fact, he enjoyed them. But his heart always felt heavy when he saw the veterans or military organizations marching along in proud fellowship.

He had volunteered in May of 1917. But an injured knee, the result of his last game of college football, had disqualified him. "That knee never bothers me," he told the medical lieutenant who was examining him.

Present at the training session which will be held here monthly were Capt. John F. Harman of Troy; Maj. Albert A. Carmichael of Montgomery; Lt. C. P. Jones of the regular army; Capt. Frank L. Jones of Florida; Capt. J. W. Hix, Lt. J. W. Kline, Lt. Martin and Lt. J. B. Rollins, all of Enterprise; Capt. Zephyr Crenshaw of Samson; Capt. Chas. L. Rowe, Lt. P. A. Farris and Lt. Dozier Bivens, all of Elba; Lt. M. M. Brown and Lt. Richard Lewis of Geneva.

Farmers Cooperation Needed in Farm Census

A census that eventually will touch the house of every farmer in Coffee County commenced Tuesday, Nov. 9, when enumerators started their systematic check of rural homes in Coffee County. Importance of cooperating with the census takers and answering all questions cannot be overemphasized. Nor can the necessity of giving accurate answers be stressed too much.

While many queries seem like they touch on personal business and infringe on the privacy of an individual's life, the information obtained is strictly confidential and when compiled with data from all other farms in the region becomes as cold and impersonal as the business end of a rifle barrel.

Their importance cannot be overestimated, though. For the 1950 census a book entitled "A Statistical Abstract Supplement County and City Data Book" was published by the government in this book you find that Coffee County has 3,443 farms totaling 356,000 acres of land. The average farm, including land and buildings, was worth $4,564 in 1949.

Farm products sold that year were valued at $6,896,000 with only $89,000 in dairy products and $79,000 in poultry products. There were 2,409 farms with electricity with an average monthly bill of $4.07. Only 100 rural homes had telephones.

On the farms there were 1,439 automobiles, 925 trucks and 697 tractors. Farms having no tractors, horses or mules numbered 582.

In 1949 Coffee County spent $437,000 for feed for livestock and poultry and $461,000 for hired labor. Cattle and calves of all ages totaled 13,537. Off-the-farm work for 177 rural residents amounted to more than 100 days.

Reading these statistics, no farm operator can claim that information he furnished the 1950 census taker has been published and embarrassed him.

School and city officials in Birmingham hauled with a truck.

Without going any further into the method of distributing sale tax receipts, it is enough to know Coffee County gets a lot more than she puts in. In plain language citizens of the "Big Nine" are helping educate children here while not having adequate facilities for their own offspring.

R. Leamon Farris, superintendent of education for Coffee County, said the district 3 mill tax and county 4 mill tax for education purposes would run his system just about four weeks. It would be hard to tell how much more is contributed in sales tax by county residents but it is safe to say if only money could be collected in Coffee County that would be used to support her schools, the term wouldn't be much more than 90 days long. Someone else is paying the rest of the educational bill for Coffee County children.

Maybe that's the way it should be and maybe it isn't. That's the way it is right now.

School patrons should be more thoughtful of the way they spend their money. The school board to spend so much of a county's money. When the board comes up with an economy move on consolidation, for example, much more tolerance and understanding on the part of the parents affected is needed. They should realize that the only reason their children are going to school at all is because of tax money collected in the county.

Proponents of dividing money statewide on a per student basis say it is fair because many of the smaller counties' residents shop in the nine counties furnishing 72 per cent of the sales tax take and thus swell the total income of the "Big Nine."

Without commenting one way or the other this column is going to report the situation now existing in Enterprise between the city and the firm which operates the telephone exchange there. Purchase by the city of the local exchange was proposed Nov. 10 in a resolution passed by the Enterprise Retail Merchants Association.

Our sister city in Coffee County refused to renew the franchise for the telephone company when it expired on May 1, 1950 and the system has been operated on a month to month basis since then. Dewey Russ said Southern Bell had been asked to come to Enterprise but had declined to do so.

The resolution passed by the Detail Merchants Association recommended that the Enterprise City Council refuse to allow the telephone system to operate the local exchange unless service was improved immediately. Charges of promised improvements that never materialized and poor service were made by businessmen.

Joe Slawson said the city government could refuse to allow the company to operate there since they have no franchise. Enterprise could then buy or set up its own utility company for providing the city with phone service, he said.

While this is far away to make a definite judgment on the situation, extreme care should be exercised in putting an election of government into business. Another obvious factor is the Kirk system has not troubled itself to keep its customers informed as to the firm's material and financial problems or let them know of a target date for certain improvements. They have let their customers reach the point where they feel any change would be one for the better.

Big Insurance Gains in War, Post-War Years

NEW YORK—The gains in life insurance protection owned by America's families in the twelve years including World War II and the post-war readjustment period are strikingly shown in the new Life Insurance Fact Book issued by the Institute of Life Insurance.

In these years, average life insurance protection rose from $122,150,000,000 to $204,220,000,000 at the start of this year with the nation's 800 life companies, an increase of 66 per cent. In the years since 1942, the number of life insurance companies has increased by more than 100.

Every state showed a gain in life insurance ownership, but in three states, Arizona, New Mexico and Florida, the increases were well over 300 per cent. Smallest percentage increases were in Massachusetts and New York, where insurance in force doubled in the period.

During 1953, American families bought a record $39,408,000,000 of new life insurance and increased their aggregate holdings of such protection by $27,688,000,000.

A survey reported in the book shows that last year 79 per cent of all U. S. families owned some type of life insurance—7 per cent of insured families had 10 per cent or more of their disposable income in life insurance premiums. In the $3,000 to $7,499 income group it was found that 93 per cent were owners of life insurance.

School Boards Reach Agreement on Paying Old Bond Issue Debts

(Last Week)

An agreement between Enterprise city schools, appeared before the board last Friday, reported the payment of his indebtedness made by the county before Enterprise went under city system.

Mr. Snellgrove claimed that when the matter of Enterprise school's withdrawal from the county system was discussed, he notified the Board that he would not agree to making Enterprise liable for any of the county indebtedness. He stated that when the County Board approved $150,000 and agreed to give Enterprise $50,000 plus a refund of $11,250 on a bonded refunding, it was his understanding that the school was to be relieved of all liability for the county indebtedness.

Frank Rainer, board member, read the contract signed between Enterprise and the county in which no mention was made of this item.

At a called meeting of the Enterprise and county boards of education, Enterprise agreed to accept its pro rata share of the old debt. The meeting was held Monday night here.

Leamon Farris, county superintendent of education, reported there will be a deficit in the operation of the vocational budget. Water pumps at a number of county schools were in bad shape as a result of the drought. Removal of 60 chairs at the abandoned Eanon school was ordered by the Board and principals were given the right to grant or refuse religious organizations the use of their auditoriums.

Kinston and New Brookton requested that their use of bus on special occasions be allowed to pay for materials for waxing floors and painting rooms. The Board ordered such an arrangement be allowed. It was estimated that such bus usage would amount to around $1500 per year.

The Board adjourned at noon and went to Fairview school to eat a barbecue dinner.

Through the Keyhole

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

THE COLONEL'S LADY is an attractive blonde named Ruth. She speaks with the soft drawl of her native Texas and manages her home and three children in a calm and collected manner. Ruth and her husband, Col. C. V. Taylor, are making their home in the Charles Rove home while Col. Taylor is stationed at the newly activated Camp Rucker.

Pictured with Ruth are Mary Alice Wise and Margaret Haire, who went calling on the new family and were graciously welcomed.

Over the coffee cups, they discussed the school play that both Margaret and Ruth's children will be in, the prospect for a C. V. Scout organization which the Taylor's are greatly interested in and with which Ruth had previously assisted. The Taylor's stay in Lawton, Okla., and many other items of mutual interest.

Mary Alice Wise, who is a member of the Baptist church and is interested in the army club, is moving here from Elba. Col. Taylor is a member of the Baptist church and is interested in the army club, is moving here from Elba.

We have enjoyed meeting Allen Schrader who is employed by Spartan Aircraft at Camp Rucker. He and his wife are living in the Clark apartments on the Enterprise highway. Mr. Schrader is a member of the Baptist church and is interested in the army club, is moving here from Elba.

Living in the Windham apartments are the Charles Meaders and their blonde daughter who is about three. I believe everyone learned that both she and her husband are Texans and that she married him when he was a civilian but is well-adapted to army life.

On informal visits to Ruth's home, we learned that both she and her husband are Texans and that she married him when he was a civilian but is well-adapted to army life.

vited to all the younger set's frolics.

The wedding was one of the prettiest I have seen. The bride's gown was of creamy satin appliqued in hand clipped lace. Her veil was one she had gotten on her trip to Europe and was breath taking. Her only attendant was her sister Marilyn whose blonde beauty was accentuated by a crown of turquoise and an arm bouquet of the Charles Bowdens Sr. of Elba.

A WEDDING OF great social interest was that of Jerelyn Wright of Troy to William Shelly of Florence. The marriage was solemnized Saturday evening by Dr. Cartrell in the First Methodist Church.

The Wright name will be familiar to all who have attended the State Teachers College. The beautiful new library is named for Dr. M. Wright who was one of the state's foremost educators. At the dedication ceremony Jerelyn and her twin sister presided as Homecoming Queens.

Maternally Jerelyn is descended from Governor Henderson.

The nuptial parties were many. Some of the loveliest were the buffet dinners. The Tat Boys entertained with a delightful dinner while Dr. & Mrs. J. O. Colley Jr. gave a beautiful rehearsal party in their spacious home Friday night. Tip and Sammie's daughter Helen Colley, is no stranger to Elba, being in-

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By HOLLAND & KILCO
E. A. Grimes, Curtis community, has completed planting 60 acres of blue lupine. He has been planting lupine for years and it is building up his land.
Lupine adds nitrogen and organic matter to the soil. The organic matter conditions the soil so it will soak up more of the rainfall. Water and nitrogen are big factors in crop production.
Lupine also holds the land during the winter. Oats, vetch, winter peas, bluegrass, reseed, and crimson clover also make good cover crops.

Survey Reports
Policemen Among Safest Drivers
EVANSTON, ILL.—Are policemen safe drivers? And if so, just how safe? Perhaps for the first time, this question can be answered with a degree of certainty. And the answer is that, as a group, police are about the safest drivers in the world.
This statement is borne out by the experience of about 84 state and municipal police fleets competing in the first National Police Fleet Safety Contest sponsored jointly by the International Association of Chiefs of Police and the National Safety Council.
From July 1, 1953 through April, 1954, the 84 competing police fleets had a combined average frequency rate of 1.23 reportable accidents per 100,000 vehicle miles, while the 1,349 commercial vehicles in other divisions of the contest racked up a frequency rate of 1.86.
State police fleets averaged .72 reportable accidents during the period which contrasts favorably with the 35 accidents per 100,000 miles achieved by 232 passenger car fleets in the contest.
Municipal police fleets experienced a 3.12 frequency rate which did not compare favorably with the experience of city truck government (1.47), city truck petroleum (1.72), or city truck private carrier (3.40). However, the squad car drivers showed themselves quite superior to the city truck contract carrier group (3.27) and the city truck common carriers (7.96).

Indians in East U. S. by 8,000 B. C.
STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—Indians were living in the Eastern United States at least 8,000 B. C., according to Dr. Frederic H. Mason, professor of archaeology at the Pennsylvania State University.
This date, Dr. Mason explains, is the earliest so far established which shows the presence of American Indians east of the Mississippi River and is in the same time range as the first dated evidence of the Folsom man in the western part of the country.
Last summer an expedition working near Modoc, Ill., uncovered at a depth of 26 feet, near the base of limestone bluffs, ancient hearths and other evidence of early man's occupation of the area. When the concentrations were later studied, it was learned that they were from a civilization more than 10,000 years old. By measuring the amount of radioactive carbon remaining in specimens and knowing the amount that was present in them when they were living organisms, their age can be calculated.
Scientists hope to develop this age-determining technique to the point where it will be possible to date many important ancient camp sites in the Near East and Africa without shipping large quantities of soil back to the laboratory.

Smallest Baby Grew Into Mighty Scrapper
LARCHMONT, N. Y.—The world's "smallest baby" has grown into quite a scrapper.
Richard D. Mann, who weighed one pound when a doctor first whisked him gently and placed him in an incubator almost eight years ago recently re-entered the same hospital to have his forehead stitched. He was hurt during a sandlot ball game.
Hailed at birth as the "smallest baby in modern medical history to survive," Richard spent months in an incubator. He now is a first-grader and weighs thirty-nine pounds, is 36 inches tall.
The fact that he is undersized is not because of his birth weight, his mother contends, but due to the fact that he keeps his weight down by constantly playing football or baseball or by fighting. Measles, mumps, and chicken-pox also helped to keep him slim, she says.

The Thunderbird, the Ford personal car that has won the praise of the nation inspired the styling of the '55 Ford. You'll find its sweep-back straight-line fenders... its lower, sleeker look... its all-around windshield... its vior-type headlight rings... reflected in the '55 Ford Cars.
All with Ford's Angle-Poised Ride
Ford's new Angle-Poised Ball-Joint Front Suspension is tilted back so that springs now soak up shock from the front as well as up-and-down (Fordomatic Drive optional).
